

Siam International Math and Science Olympics (SIMSO)

SCIENCE ONLY**

Registration not yet open

The Siam International Math and Science Olympics (SIMSO) is organized by the International Champions in Education (ICE Thailand). SIMSO is yet another stellar math and science-based competition in the Kingdom of Thailand.

This is a good opportunity for the students to gain exposure to the rigour of the Science Olympiad and pit their skills against other participants. SIMSO will award medals and certificates to the top 60% of overall participants. Participants with Gold, Silver, or Bronze Awards are qualified to register for the final round.

Further details to be provided when available.
