

Vanda National Junior Science Olympiad (VNJSO)

Registration not yet open

The Vanda National Junior Science Olympiad (VNJSO) - previously Vanda Science National is organized by the Singapore International Mastery Contests Centre (SIMCC) and is an International Science Competition held annually around the world. It is designed to focus on the student's ability to think critically and creatively to pick out hidden information to aid them in solving the question.

This is a good opportunity for the students to develop the confidence to take part in more challenging science competitions and start scoring A*s in Science. VNJSO will award medals and certificates to the top 40% of participants. Award recipients will also be invited to participate in STEAM AHEAD 2026 - VANDA International Junior Science Olympiad (VIJSO). Further details about the VIJSO competition will be released soon.

Further details to be provided when available.

For more information about VNJSO, you may refer here